

THE BELMONT CHRONICLE.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

BOOK & JOB PRINTING.

We are prepared to execute, in the best style, and in short time, all kinds of Books, Cards, Handbills, Pamphlets, Circulars, Tickets, Posters, Checks, Labels, Programs, Bill-Blanks, Blanks, LAVENDER'S BRIEFS, &c., &c.

FANCY JOB PRINTING.

In a style to give satisfaction to the most fastidious, at the BELMONT CHRONICLE Office. All orders promptly attended to.

Transient advertisements and job-work must be paid for in advance.

All communications and advertisements must be handed in before 10 o'clock on Wednesday, or be delayed another week.

We invite attention to the Advertisement in another column, of the "Granville Wreath-Cure." This institution has been established long enough to satisfy the public of its permanency and success. Any person willing to submit themselves to their regimen, &c., will find the Granville establishment one of the best kind in the country.

As we notice by our exchanges, that the extreme cold weather of last week was pretty generally felt over the Northern and Western States. A writer in the Columbus Journal says: "was the coldest winter ever before felt in Ohio."

We were visited by an unusually heavy fall of snow on Saturday and Sunday last. It has caused that oft-quoted individual, "the oldest inhabitant to refresh his memory," & it is difficult he finds a parallel even at a remote period. It was difficult to measure accurately, on account of the drifting, but we think it should not have been much short of two feet.

We heard a rumor in town of another accident on the C. O. R. Road on Saturday; the breaking down of a bridge, which resulted in the loss of no less than forty—lost!

By a letter from JOHN G. Saxe, Esq., we learn that his lecture will be postponed until a later day, owing to ill health. The day will be made known however in due time.

GOETHE.

JUNG STILLING speaking of Goethe, said—"Goethe's heart, which few knew, was as great at his intellect, which all knew." How beautiful, and yet how true!—Goethe's heart was a temple where in great thought came to worship. What Shakespeare was to England Goethe was to Germany, a giant in intellect, and an angel in heart. "The life and Works of Goethe" is for sale at the Chronicle Book Store. 2 vols. $35 & 47½ pages.

NOTICE. The club for the Ohio Cultivator will remain open at this office until Saturday, 19th inst. Send on your names, farmers, and 40 cents.

Tribune (late Whig) Almanac. We have been favored by the publishers with a copy of this excellent publication. We regard it as one of the most valuable works for reference, especially to the politician to be had for the money. It contains a history of Kansas; the acts of the last Congress; a view of the war in Europe in 1855; a list of the U. S. Government and the returns by State and counties of the elections of 1855. This should be in the hands of every one. Price 12½ cents. For sale at the Chronicle Book Store.

DIED: —On the 15th inst., of Liver complaint, William John, son of Mrs. Isabella Young, of this place, aged 3 years and 3 months.

—On the 14th inst., George Francis Hutchison, son of Jane and Beishaba Hutchison, aged seven months, two weeks and 4 days.

But his God hath birthed us,

He can all our sorrows heal.

Yet again we hope to meet thee,

Whid the day of life has fled,

Then in heaven with joy to greet thee.

Where no farewell tear is shed.

RHEUMATISM, in its most aggravated form disappears from the system like frost before the rising sun, when Carter's Spanish Mixture is brought to bear upon it. 'Tis the greatest purifier of the blood dives at once to the root of all such diseases, and drives it from limb to limb, and joint to joint, until its strength is captured, and is forced out of the system through the pores of the skin—Let the suffering try it and become healed.

Hoofland's German Bitters.

Certificate of RALPH LUTE, Esq., Editor of "Times," Ironwood, Mich.

IRVINGTON, October 30, 1854

Dr. C. M. JACKSON.—Dear Sir.—The Bitters are sold in large quantities. I addition to the quantity sold by Moyer & Baker, there are other dealers who sell more of them than any other manufacturer. They are much used by convalescent patients to rebuild their broken constitutions.

It would be well to have the same manufactured for a term of years. Terms made to suit purchasers.

JOHN BICKEL.—N. B. Persons injured to the subscriber are earnestly requested to call and make their accounts as far as determined to leave the county.
